Iconic Architecture

Jeanne Gang

Founder and Partner of Studio Gang

— Gang is one of the greatest architects of our time. Since founding Studio Gang in her native Illinois in 1997, Gang has been dedicated to projects that marry building with critical thinking.

— Gang was the only architect named as one of TIME Magazine's 100 most influent people in 2019. She is a MacArthur Fellow and a leading advocate for general equality.

— Headquartered in Chicago, with offices in New York, San Francisco, and Paris, Studio Gang is one of the most decorated architecture firms in the world.

Outdoor spaces

- Rising from a square base at street level, One Delisle spirals to become a 16-sided circular tower with generous outdoor spaces throughout the building.
- Unlike any building in Toronto, the unique building architecture allows for both terraces and balconies.
- The design is inspired by the German Strandkorb beach chair, purposefully maximizing sunlight and protection from the elements to allow the balconies and terraces to be enjoyed well into shoulder seasons.
- Close to 80 percent of the project has outdoor spaces in each suite, some have both balconies and terraces.

Hotel like amenities

- The interior design and custom finishes will rival iconic landmark buildings in world class cities like New York, Hong Kong, and the UK. The building's retail will only add to the building's exclusivity and luxury positioning.
- One Delisle hosts a suite of amenities for the desires of its residents. The offering is focused on some of life's most coveted pleasures - like the wine and cocktail lounge (pictured) - and tailored to serve - like The Wellness Spa, that includes a Eucalyptus Room, Salt Room, Infrared Sauna, and private Japanese Terraces for moments of calm and reflection.

Immigration to Canada and Toronto Population Growth

Canada expects a growth of 1,200,000

newcomers by 2023

- Close to 40 % of the 1.2 M expected immigrants are expected in the Greater Toronto Area, further contributing to housing demand - in turn putting pressure on our already limited supply.
- Toronto ranks second in the world on the Global Cities Outlook rankings, which determines cities on the rise.

Toronto's Tech Hub

The fastest growing tech hub in North America

- Since 2013, the number of tech jobs have skyrocketed from about 148,000 to 228,000.
- Between the US and Canada, Toronto ranks fourth as the city with the greatest tech talent, following San Francisco Bay area, Washington, and Seattle.
- Costs for tech companies to operate in Toronto are considerably lower compared to American counterparts; a lower cost of living for employees and proximity to major research universities make Toronto, and Canada, an attractive place to do business.
- Most recently, Reddit has announced a new Canadian office in Toronto, as U.S. tech firms expand in Canada including, Pinterest Inc., Twitter Inc., and Uber Technologies.

Super prime real estate

- One Delisle will put Toronto on the map, offering residential real estate that is comparable to world class cities such as London, New York, Paris, Shanghai, Hong Kong, and Singapore.
- A desirable location to live and do business, Toronto has emerged as an irreplaceable location, attracting world-famous architects and interior designers.
- Continued and expected economic growth will contribute to Toronto's established wealth.

Toronto is a best in class destination.

Slate's Portfolio

With over $6 Billion assets under management, Slate is a global investment and asset manager, with a bold vision to reimagine the potential of properties, markets, or opportunities that other overlook.

Acquired in 2013, Slate has a portfolio of 10 high-quality assets in the Yonge and St. Clair area, most notably all four corners of the intersection. This is 1.25 M SF of office space, representing 60 percent of office inventory in the node. With the development of One Delisle, Delisle Park will be expanded and further improvements to the public realm will be made.
